JOI YAN R. HUANG

PERSONAL PROFILE

I'm an e-mail marketing deployment specialist working at Cheetah Digital for over 3 years now. I've been teaching myself to program in Javascript and front-end web development. My experience at this job has let me to learn about e-mail and coding best practices which I apply in my day to day tasks. I've also learned how to better work with team mates. I have a computer science and business administration background. I'm ready to take on a new venture by becoming a full time coder and begin to apply the skills I've acquired over the years.
